Target Audience: Physicians/Nurses

This activity is intended for employees of Hawai'i Pacific Health, including non-employees who have credentialed privileges within HPH.

Disclosure: I and/or my spouse/partner have no financial relationships or affiliations to disclose.

Learning Objectives: At the conclusion participants should be able to:

- Analyze and evaluate patients (infants, children, teenagers, and young adults) with congenital heart defects using a composite of diagnostic tools including echocardiograms, ECGs, Holter monitors, cardiac CT and MRI images and cardiac catheterization data with angiograms.
- Identify risk factors and comorbid conditions that may influence the severity of cardiac conditions and alter therapeutic options and overall outcome.
- Integrate the diagnostic studies of patients with congenital heart disease in order to develop an appropriate treatment plan according to the state-of-the-art standards dictated by published guidelines.
- Manage complications and residual defects related to surgical and interventional procedures commonly utilized in patients with congenital heart disease and outline how these complications are managed by the team.
