MEDICAL GROUP

Hawai'i Pacific Health Medical Group is seeking a highly motivated and energetic Pediatric Cardiologist to join a collaborative, dynamic and expanding group, that provides comprehensive inpatient and outpatient cardiac care for the entire State of Hawai'i.

Kapi'olani Medical Center for Women and Children is the premier pediatric hospital in Hawai'i, a state-of-the-art tertiary medical center with established inpatient services supported by the entire spectrum of pediatric subspecialties. Pediatric cardiologists are an important part of the inpatient hospital system as well as the multidisciplinary clinics, being an integral part of the many subspecialty services provided by the medical center.

Pediatric Cardiology candidates should be sub-board certified or eligible. Responsibilities include outpatient clinical care, evaluation of cardiac imaging studies, as well as consultation and primary inpatient care for children with heart conditions. In addition to general pediatric cardiology services at the main hospital, the ideal candidate would take on an active role in expanding these comprehensive services to satellite clinics on O'ahu and the neighbor islands. Besides the clinical responsibilities, participation in research and teaching through the University of Hawai'i, John A. Burns School of Medicine is highly encouraged.

Competitive salary and full benefits are combined with the advantages of an integrated group practice with the cultural diversity, superb lifestyle, excellent climate and year-round activities of one of the happiest and healthiest places in the country!
