Supporting the Campaign For Hawai'i's Children

Thanks to the overwhelming support of generous donors from the community, the Campaign for Hawai'i's Children exceeded its $30 million goal, raising $35,082,930 in support of the Phase I renovation and expansion of Kapi'olani Medical Center for Women & Children.

Co-chaired by Dee Jay Mailer and Bert Kobayashi, the Campaign for Hawai'i's Children supported the first phase of a multi-year master plan to entirely rebuild the hospital. Construction on Kapi'olani's new Neonatal and Pediatric Intensive Care Unit building is underway and will be done by March 2016.

Completion of the campaign ensures that the most critically ill children and babies born pre-term or with low birth weight receive care in a family-centered environment. The new building will also feature a new rehabilitation services department and an education center to support training programs for Hawai'i's future doctors, nurses and allied health professionals in pediatrics and women's care.

In May 2014, a celebratory event honored the campaign milestone, which included a surprise donation that increased the total raised from $34M to $35M.

BECAUSE OF YOU...

Families have a special place for reflection

An important part of providing care at Pali Momi Medical Center is meeting the spiritual needs of patients and their families. Located on the second floor next to guest registration, the hospital's newly renovated chapel offers a peaceful reprieve for those coping with the illness of a loved one.

The makeover was a collaborative effort between Pali Momi leadership, staff and the community. Staff pitched in to help with the planning and construction. Donations to the hospital provided new paint, flooring and a custom-designed, stained-glass centerpiece enclosed in a light box.

"The chapel is a work of many people," says Pali Momi Chaplain Nathan Kohashi. "It's a sacred space used on a daily basis where people come to find a sense of peace in the midst of pain."

Chaplain Nathan Kohashi in Pali Momi's newly renovated chapel. The chapel is dedicated to the memory of Pali Momi board member, volunteer and supporter Maude Nishimoto. Local artist Annalee Jones created the chapel's centerpiece—a stunning stained-glass design featuring an image of the hospital's iconic sculpture, the 'āina lani. She also generously built and donated the light box.

Island families receive the comfort they need

The Mitch Kouchi Surgery Center Waiting Area in Wilcox Memorial Hospital, a 341-square-foot lounge and consultation room, is named in recognition of Mitch Kouchi, a member of a long-time Kaua'i family that has made generous contributions to the hospital. "It is especially fitting that this gift is named in recognition of a family that has done, and continues to do, so much for our Garden Island community," said Kathy Clark, president and CEO of Wilcox and CEO of Kaua'i Medical Clinic. "We are honored to work alongside them and the anonymous donor who made the contribution on his behalf, to help the residents of Kaua'i."

Honoring a legacy helps others

Gerald Yoshito Sakaguchi was born in a Japanese-American internment camp during World War II. His family's experiences in the camp would influence Sakaguchi throughout his career as an attorney, where he gave his time and expertise to help those who faced injustice.

Sakaguchi instilled these values in his children, and when he passed away in 2012, his son Dr. Bradley Sakaguchi, an OB-GYN at Straub Clinic & Hospital, decided to honor his father's memory by establishing the Gerald Yoshito Sakaguchi Fund. The fund serves as a legacy to Sakaguchi and his children, who have all contributed to the fund, which supports high-quality medical care for patients who are not able to afford it—a simple, direct support to those in need.

Pali Momi Celebrates 25 Years of Caring for the Community

For 25 years, Pali Momi Medical Center has grown along with the communities it serves — anticipating the needs of patients, and expanding the hospital and services to meet them.

For decades, there were few who believed a state-of-the-art hospital belonged outside of Honolulu. Fortunately, through the hard work of a handful of doctors from Pearl City and a petition signed by thousands of neighborhood residents, Pali Momi opened in 'Aiea in 1989.

Built by community members to fill an important need, Pali Momi became a trusted place for residents. Today, the hospital is on the leading edge of health care in Hawai'i, providing nationally recognized, quality care and patient service.

Pali Momi has pioneered many firsts and advances in health care for Central and West O'ahu, including the first cardiac catheterization unit, first retina center in the state, a fully accredited bariatric surgery program and a comprehensive women's center, equipped with the latest technology.

Unique to Pali Momi is its approach to emergency medicine. With "Team Triage," board-certified emergency physicians are able to see patients more quickly.

As a not-for-profit hospital, Pali Momi relies on donor contributions as an important part of caring for the community. They allow Pali Momi to provide specialty care, and care for anyone who needs it.

"We at Pali Momi take our obligation to the community seriously," said James Kakuda, MD, Pali Momi's chief of staff. "We work for, and stand by, our patients. Gifts to Pali Momi help us improve our community's health, happiness and hope."

Pali Momi continues to be a leader in innovation and technology. Dr. James Kakuda, chief of staff at Pali Momi, with the da Vinci robot-aided system—the latest in minimally invasive surgery.

Under the direction of Dr. Gregg Kokame, The Retina Center at Pali Momi Medical Center is an internationally recognized center for retinal care research and education. Dr. Kokame, medical director of the Retina Center, has been affiliated with Pali Momi since it opened in 1989.

Pali Momi has provided high-quality programs and services to Central and West O'ahu since it opened 25 years ago. Dr. Mark Grief, who has been affiliated with Pali Momi since it opened, is chair of the Pali Momi Medical Center Board and medical director of the hospital's accredited and comprehensive bariatric surgery program.

BECAUSE OF YOU...

A family tradition of giving helps keiki

Tanioka's Seafoods & Catering in Waipahu is legendary for serving up quality, local-style favorites with a friendly smile. The Tanioka family's strong connection with the community extends beyond their business ventures to support keiki through Kapi'olani Medical Center for Women & Children.

"For us, giving to Kapi'olani helps the community," said Mel Tanioka, who started the family-run business 36 years ago with his wife, Lynn. "Lynn chose Kapi'olani as our main beneficiary because it's an investment for the children of Hawai'i."

For the past eight years, the family and staff of Tanioka's have channeled their passion and resources to make a difference in the lives of children at Kapi'olani. Tanioka's Charity Foundation hosts an annual signature golf tournament that raises thousands of dollars for local charities, with Kapi'olani named as its main beneficiary. Recently, the foundation made a generous contribution to support the hospital's Children's Cancer Center and pediatric programs.

"If we don't help now, it could jeopardize the availability of medical care for children in an emergency," said Tanioka. "It's reassuring to know that Kapi'olani will be here for all families now and in the future."

"It's an investment for the children of Hawai'i."

Giving together makes a big impact on the Garden Island

Kaua'i's residents depend on Wilcox Memorial Hospital for emergency services 24/7. Physicians and staff supported innovation in the Emergency Room through gifts from their 2014 Employee Giving Campaign. Contributions will fund state-of-the-art Philips Intellivue monitors to allow emergency staff to efficiently track vital functions and allow for safer sedations.

A West O'ahu production benefits the children of Hawai'i

More than 3,000 people attended the Ko Olina Children's Film & Music Festival, a benefit for Kapi'olani Medical Center for Women & Children. With film screenings, such as Disney's "Finding Nemo," performances by Honolulu Theatre for Youth and Sistah Robi Kahakalau, and activities with Disney characters, the event provided a day of fun for all.

A "floating" stage and a fiery sunset provided a dramatic backdrop as Jeffrey R. Stone, Ko Olina Resort Association president and CEO of The Resort Group, presented a $50,000 check to Kapi'olani toward the Campaign for Hawai'i's Children. The contribution included festival proceeds and a dollar-for-dollar match from the Ko Olina Resort Association.

Giving Back to a Place Close at Heart

Violeta Arnobit joined Pali Momi Medical Center as a nurse when it opened in 1989. While she traded in her uniform years ago to launch Ace Medical, Inc., a medical supply business that she owns today with her husband, Terry, Arnobit remains dedicated to supporting the hospital where she has been both the provider and recipient of its outstanding care.

In addition to working at Pali Momi, Arnobit has experienced the hospital as a patient, board member and dedicated donor. Recently, instead of a big gift to themselves for their 25th wedding anniversary, the Arnobits celebrated quietly and made a generous gift toward a room sponsorship at the Pali Momi Women's Center, a place close to their hearts.

As director of the Pali Momi Women's Center, Nancy Von Borzestowski sees firsthand the significance that the center has to women of all ages by providing comprehensive women's health services to patients in Central and

West O'ahu. "With all the demands that women face, many do not make their own health a priority," said Von Borzestowski. "We help alleviate some of those barriers by offering advanced technology in a newly expanded and comfortable setting, with convenient hours."

"The Women's Center is critical to our community," said Arnobit. "And giving to support the center is truly an honor for me. It was important to honor my mom, who died of cancer, as well as for me and the other women out there. Together, we can do more to serve and meet the health care needs of our community."

Violeta Arnobit is pictured in front of the new Wall of Hope at the Pali Momi Women's Center. The wall is dedicated to the women who come to the center seeking better health. The butterflies on the wall represent the power of change. Pali Momi is grateful to the donors who have given to allow the women in the community to flourish.

Hawai'i's college athletes are ahead of the game

Hawai'i Pacific Health has partnered with the University of Hawai'i's John A. Burns School of Medicine (JABSOM) and Athletics Department to support the UH JABSOM Primary Care Sports Medicine Fellowship Program.

Hawai'i Pacific Health works with the University to improve health care services for its varsity intercollegiate student-athletes by offering well-coordinated and comprehensive care across the Hawai'i Pacific Health system. The partnership also enables Hawai'i Pacific Health to support physician training and research in the field of sports medicine.

Dreams can come true

For some medically fragile patients at Kapi'olani Medical Center for Women & Children, the dream of attending their school's prom is not possible. Staff and volunteers came together with generous vendors and companies from the community to create a full-scale version of prom in the hospital, complete with deejay, picture taking, formal wear and more. Friends and family joined patients in a safe setting for a fun and unforgettable experience.

Caring for Hawai'i's Keiki

The human heart is essential to life and vitality. Yet imagine if your child's heart was not functioning properly. Who would you turn to?

When Jullie and Jay Passos found out their son, Keegan, would be born with a heart defect after 32 weeks in utero, they turned to the maternal fetal medicine specialists and neonatologists at Kapi'olani Medical Center for Women & Children.

At birth, Keegan was diagnosed with Tetralogy of Fallot and Pulmonary Atresia, a rare condition that accounts for only about 2 percent of congenital heart disease. His first open heart surgery took place at 6 months old. This would be the first of many surgeries to follow. His surgeons put a total of 10 stents in his arteries to assist his heart function, along with a pacemaker.

Now 16 years old, Keegan knows how lucky he is to be alive. As a teen mentor in Kapi'olani's Kardiak Kids program, he shares his experiences as a young heart patient with other children who depend on his support to cope with similar medical challenges.

Keegan's positive outlook is one of the many reasons he was chosen as Hawai'i's 2014 Children's Miracle Network Champion. The program honors remarkable children who have triumphed despite severe medical challenges. Only one child from each state is selected per year.

As Hawai'i's only Children's Miracle Network Hospital, Kapi'olani is here to help Hawai'i's keiki, regardless of illness, injury or ability to pay. Support from generous donors ensures the continuation of this exceptional, lifesaving care.

"Kapi'olani is my lifeline, and I wouldn't be here without my Kapi'olani family taking care of my everyday issues."

A caregiver continues to touch lives

Mary Wilkerson touched many lives as a medical-surgical and chemotherapy nurse at Pali Momi Medical Center. Her legacy of caring for patients with cancer lives on in memoriam through a scholarship funded by her hospital family. The collective gifts from Pali Momi doctors, nurses, employees and friends made it possible to fund the Mary Wilkerson Memorial Scholarship Program for at least 10 years.

The scholarship is awarded each May during Nurses' Week to Pali Momi employees who wish to pursue oncology nursing certification. Recipients display the characteristics that Wilkerson embodied and believed were important for a nurse, such as being passionate, compassionate, respectful, professional, helpful and accountable.

"I work with patients every day who have been affected by cancer," said Balbino Canoy, a medical-surgical nurse at Pali Momi who worked with Wilkerson, and is the first recipient of the scholarship. "With my oncology certification, I want to be able to help them better cope with the process at every stage of their treatment."

Kaua'i's children are cared for close to home

Every September, members and staff at Kaua'i Community Federal Credit Union (KCFCU) gear up for a time-honored tradition—an annual charity golf tournament benefitting Wilcox Memorial Hospital. KCFCU has hosted this event for 14 years, raising more than $250,000 over the years, to support pediatric programs and services for hospitalized keiki treated at Wilcox Memorial Hospital. For KCFCU leaders and members, the gift is especially important, because 100 percent of every dollar donated stays on Kaua'i to help keiki and their families.

Neighbor island families feel the aloha

Through a special partnership, a $100,000 gift to Hawai'i Public Radio developed into one million HawaiianMiles that help neighbor island families in need fly to O'ahu to be with their loved ones who are under care at Kapi'olani Medical Center for Women & Children.

Making a Difference, Saving Lives

Gail Myers grew up in a military family and moved to Hawai'i when her father was assigned to duty at Hickam Air Force Base. She fell in love with Hawai'i upon arrival and knew she never wanted to leave.

Myers dreamed of going to college, believing it would make her independent and give her the ability to help her family in the future. She worked to pay for her education and became the first member of her family to obtain a college degree when she graduated from the University of Hawai'i at Mānoa.

When Myers needed vascular surgery, she turned to the experts at Straub Clinic & Hospital who became part of her family too. Dr. Elna Masuda and nurse Darcy Kessler are just two members of the Straub team who saved her life not once, but twice.

Myers would again turn to Straub, but this time it would be for different reasons. "I wanted to honor the family I loved—my late grandfather and parents, and my inimitable companion Beaux, who taught me about a different kind of love from one of God's creatures," said Myers. "I also wanted to acknowledge my new family members, the physicians and staff at Straub who saved my life."

Together with the Straub Foundation, Myers created the Gail Myers Fund for Vascular Medicine for the advancement of vascular care so that patients will be able to benefit from the same high-quality expertise and compassionate care that she received as a patient at Straub.

"I wanted to honor the family I loved...and acknowledge the physicians and staff at Straub who saved my life."

Aloha,

Whether you want to honor a family member, acknowledge a caregiver, help ease pain and suffering, or have any other motivation, when you give to our hospitals you make a difference. Your gift changes lives.

This year's annual donor report, "Because of You," highlights the positive effects that gifts from individuals and organizations have on advancing the mission of Hawai'i Pacific Health and its family of hospitals and clinics. Because of donors like you, we are able to acquire advanced technology, enhance our community outreach, attract and retain outstanding physicians and caregivers, and provide compassionate, quality care to the patients we serve.

On behalf of the thousands of people who find comfort and healing at Kapi'olani Medical Center for Women & Children, Pali Momi Medical Center, Straub Clinic & Hospital and Wilcox Health, thank you for your generous support.

Sincerely,

We are inspired

No matter what form it takes—time, talent or financial resources—giving from caring individuals, businesses and organizations improves the quality of life for all of us. As volunteer leaders for the Foundations of Hawai'i Pacific Health, we are honored to be able to witness these amazing acts of giving by so many of you in the community.

Because of donors like you, Kapi'olani Health Foundation, Pali Momi Foundation, Straub Foundation and Wilcox Health Foundation collectively raised more than $13 million this year. These funds enable us to expand our programs and services and continue to provide state-of-the-art technology.

This was also a milestone year for Kapi'olani as we exceeded our fundraising goal for the Campaign for Hawai'i's Children. The campaign, which was the largest in the state, ensures the future of quality health care for our keiki. We are pleased to share that we raised more than $35 million for Phase I of the campaign thanks to the generosity of the community.

On behalf of our foundations, we are grateful for your dedication to the mission of our hospitals. Thank you for your support and for your inspiration.

2013 Employee Giving Campaign

As a not-for-profit health care system, Hawai'i Pacific Health and its affiliated hospitals and clinics depend on the generosity of our community of donors, including employees, to support our mission of providing high-quality care to every patient, every time. Each August, the Hawai'i Pacific Health Employee Giving Campaign gives our employees the opportunity to support the programs and services they care about at all of our campuses, as well as in the community.

The 2013 campaign raised nearly $640,000 to support designated programs at our hospitals. This demonstrates our employees' commitment to providing high-quality, compassionate health care to the people of Hawai'i and the Pacific Region.

KAPI'OLANI CHILDREN'S MIRACLE NETWORK

Since 1986, Kapi'olani Children's Miracle Network has been generating funds and awareness for the support of vital medical care and treatment every child in our community deserves. Gifts support direct patient care, specialized medical equipment, neighbor island travel and patient transport, and lifesaving research and preventive education. One hundred percent of all funds stay in Hawai'i and support pediatric programs at Kapi'olani Medical Center for Women & Children.

STRAUB CLINIC & HOSPITAL

When patients cannot afford the medical care that they need, it is difficult for them to recover from an illness or injury. Often that care extends beyond the bedside and discharge. Patient long-term health is a concern when discharged patients are unable to pay for medications, medical supplies, transportation, rehabilitation, respite care or temporary housing. Donations to Straub supported 200 patients through the Kokua Fund. The fund helps uninsured and underinsured patients transitioning at discharge from Straub with access to medical support that will provide comfort and advance their recovery.

KAPI'OLANI MEDICAL CENTER FOR WOMEN & CHILDREN

Kapi'olani has many programs and services that are vital to the mission of caring for the women, children and adolescents of Hawai'i. This year's contributions supported the renovation and expansion of the hospital, which will provide 70 new, private Neonatal Intensive Care Unit rooms, 14 private Pediatric Intensive Care Unit rooms, expanded family waiting areas, 12 additional women's medical and surgical rooms, and a new education space.

WILCOX HEALTH

Kaua'i has a very high incidence of colon cancer and it is important to provide the community with the best advantage for diagnosis and treatments. Wilcox's efforts remain focused on improving cancer care on the Garden Island. Donations from the Employee Giving Campaign helped to provide new equipment for early detection and prevention of colon cancer.

PALI MOMI MEDICAL CENTER

Financial means should never determine a person's ability to receive quality health care. This year, gifts to Pali Momi supported 165 patients through the Pali Momi Ohana Fund. The fund assists patients with many services and equipment not covered by insurance. Examples include helping patients obtain critical medications they cannot afford or are unable to receive through other means, transportation between their homes and medical facilities, as well as helpful medical aides such as walkers and bedside commodes. These services enable patients to move forward quickly with their treatments or return home and avoid a possible readmission.
